

SUMMER FOOD PROGRAM FEEDS KIDS FOR FREE

NORTH PROVIDENCE – With summer right around the corner, it's time to think about keeping children healthy while school is out. The North Providence School Department provides free meals to children during the summer.

This summer, meals will be served at:

Centredale Elementary School	07/2/18-08/10/18	11:00-12:30
Marievillle Elementary School	07/02/18-08/10/18	11:30-12:30
North Providence High School	07/02/18-8/10/18	11:00-12:30

There are no income requirements or registration. Any child under age 18 may come to eat. For more information, contact Mary Read at 830-5668 or e mail mary.read@npsd.k12.ri.us.

Each year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture partners with local organizations like The North Providence School Department to provide free meals to children when school is out for the summer. For more information about the national Summer Food Service Program, visit <http://www.fns.usda.gov/cnd/summer>. For more information on summer feeding sites near you including locations and serving times around the state, contact the United Way by dialing 211.

This institution is an equal opportunity provider.